

Secularist of the Year – make sure you're there!

Posted: Thu, 10th Jan 2013

Tickets are still available for the premier secular event of the calendar – Secularist of the Year. This congenial annual prize-giving is our opportunity to honour those who have done more than their bit to further the cause of secularism.

It's an opportunity to meet some of our distinguished honorary associates as well as other NSS members and friends from around the country.

As well as a welcome cocktail to get the party started, there is a three course lunch followed by tea or coffee and then the presentation of the £5,000 Irwin Prize for Secularist of the Year.

We've had some interesting nominations this year and the winner is bound to be surprising and deserving. The prize will be presented this year by senior MEP and NSS honorary associate Michael Cashman CBE.

Tickets are £45 and can be purchased securely online here and we'll look forward to seeing you there.
