

Channel 4 documentary series about the journey to death as a consequence of life limiting illness

Love Productions is making a primetime Channel 4 series about people who are on a journey to death as a consequence of life limiting illnesses. The aim of this series is to present the subject of death to a mainstream audience in an open and honest way; thereby adding to the wider debate about how we approach death culturally, practically, and spiritually.

We are currently looking for people to take part in the series that have an atheist view point, and are able to talk openly about how this is impacting on their approach to death.

What's it really like to face death? What becomes important? What becomes insignificant? Do people treat you differently? In what ways does life change?

If you, or someone close to you, are in this situation, we would really like to have a confidential chat with you on the phone. If you're keen to find out more, we'd perhaps arrange to visit you to discuss the project and discover whether you would be interested in taking part. It wouldn't commit you to anything at this stage.

If you would like to speak to one of our small and friendly team confidentially about the series further, please call us on 0207 067 2463 / 07580 494479 / enquiry@loveproductions.co.uk. If you do not get through to someone, please leave a message and we will call you back as soon as we can.
