

Win tickets to see National Youth Theatre's new play "Pope Joan"

Posted: Thu, 8th Aug 2013

You can win two tickets to see the National Youth Theatre's new play, Pope Joan which will be performed at St James church in Piccadilly, central London from 31 August to 15 September.

Described as "a truly unique theatrical experience, Pope Joan is written by promising new playwright Louise Brealey and tells the story of the legend that is Pope Joan — the first and only female to achieve Papal status. Controversial, moving and enthralling, audiences can witness an unfolding of unbelievable and prescient events that have profound parallels today. Unmissable." If you'd like to be in with a chance to win these tickets just answer this question:

A 1972 film Pope Joan was directed by Michael Anderson — what was the title of the American version of that film? Please email your answer to: admin@secularism.org.uk.

This competition is open to NSS members only and the closing date for entries is 16 August 2013. The winner will be chosen at random from those who correctly answer the question.
