

Four new C of E faith schools moving forward with little scrutiny

Posted: Tue, 09 Feb 2021

Four new state-funded Church of England faith schools have moved closer to opening, despite a lack of public scrutiny around the plans.

The Department for Education has approved funding in principle for a new voluntary aided secondary school in Kingston-upon-Thames, which will be allowed to enforce a particularly exclusive religious ethos.

The other three schools, in Derbyshire, Kent and Hartlepool, have moved forward as part of the latest wave of free schools in the government's academies programme in England.

The school in Derbyshire has moved to the pre-opening stage, while the DfE has approved the other schools in principle.

Read the story in full on our No More Faith Schools website.

Join our national campaign against faith schools

We campaign for an inclusive and secular education system free from any form of religious privilege, partisanship, proselytization or discrimination. Please consider a donation, from as little as £1 a month, to help support our work in this area.

P.S. make sure to check out the related campaigns below.

- Find out more
- Donate

- Share on What's App
- Share on Facebook
- Share on Twitter
- Share on Email
- Subscribe to RSS Feed

Tags: Education, Faith Schools

Related Campaigns

•

Faith schools

We want an inclusive education system, free from religious discrimination, privilege or control.

Read More

-

Education & schools

Join our campaign for an inclusive and secular education system.

Read More