

Tags: Statistics

• Page:

- 1
- 2
- 3
- 4
- 5
- 6
- 7
- 8

Just 12% of Brits are affiliated to C of E, major survey reveals

Posted: Thu, 11 Jul 2019

The NSS has called for a "serious rethink" of religion's public role amid a significant decline in affiliation to the Church of England. Read More »

Britain's non-religious population growing rapidly, figures show

Posted: Fri, 12 Apr 2019

The number of people who say they are non-religious in Great Britain has risen by 46% in seven years, according to official figures. Read More »

Just a third of public supports royal ties with CoE, NSS poll finds

Posted: Fri, 04 Jan 2019

Only a third of the UK public thinks the monarchy's ties to the C of E should remain intact, according to a poll conducted for the NSS. Read More »

Most maintained rural primary schools are faith schools, data shows

Posted: Tue, 18 Dec 2018

The NSS has reiterated concerns about parents' lack of access to secular schools in rural areas after an analysis of new official data. Read More »

C of E services for schools expand by 56% in four years

Posted: Wed, 14 Nov 2018

The NSS has said a rise in the number of children attending C of E school services should prompt "a separation of church and school". Read More »

Most Britons support key secularist principles, says Pew research

Posted: Thu, 01 Nov 2018

Britons support several key secularist principles but a significant minority are unwelcoming of religious minorities, a study has found. Read More »

At least 17 councils giving schools non-stunned meat, NSS reveals

Posted: Thu, 18 Oct 2018

At least 17 councils across the UK are supplying non-stunned halal meat to dozens of schools, National Secular Society research has revealed. Read More »

Affiliation to C of E has halved since 2002, major survey shows

Posted: Fri, 07 Sep 2018

The National Secular Society has called the Church of England's established status "unsustainable" after new figures revealed a sharp decline in affiliation. Read More »

Scottish govt commits to faith schools despite religious decline

Posted: Tue, 14 Aug 2018

The Scottish government has told the NSS it has no plans to roll back faith schools as a poll shows Scots are becoming less religious. Read More »

Restrictions on religion increasing globally, says Pew report

Posted: Thu, 28 Jun 2018

More than four in ten countries had "high" or "very high" levels of restrictions on religion in 2016, according to a new report. Read More »

British public opposes religious influence in education, poll finds

Posted: Mon, 11 Jun 2018

British adults strongly oppose religious influence in school admissions, assemblies and RE teaching, an NSS-commissioned poll has found. Read More »

Pew survey: 60% support separation of religion and government in UK

Posted: Thu, 31 May 2018

Six out of ten adults in the UK believe religion should be kept separate from government policy, according to the Pew Research Centre. Read More »

Religion a major source of tension in Britain, poll finds

Posted: Mon, 23 Apr 2018

The NSS has said policy makers must avoid dividing people by religion after a poll found it is a major source of tension in Britain. Read More »

18,000 children sent to faith schools against parental preference

Posted: Mon, 09 Apr 2018

More than 18,000 children were sent to faith schools against their parents' preferences in England this year, an NSS analysis has found. Read More »

Majority of Britons see religious studies as unimportant

Posted: Thu, 15 Feb 2018

The British public considers religious studies one of the least important subjects which secondary schools teach, according to a poll. Read More »

Iceland: 72% support separation of church and state

Posted: Wed, 17 Jan 2018

More than seven out of ten Icelanders who have an opinion on the separation of church and state support the idea, a poll has found. Read More »

Research reveals systemic bias against secular schools

Posted: Thu, 11 Jan 2018

The NSS has written to the DfE after research showed faith-based provision is treated preferentially during school reorganisations. Read More »

Widespread support for inclusive secular schooling in Hackney

Posted: Tue, 12 Dec 2017

A consultation has revealed extensive support for inclusive secular education in the London borough of Hackney. Read More »

Exclusive: Most state Jewish schools enforce religious dress

Posted: Tue, 21 Nov 2017

Nearly 60% of state-funded Jewish schools in England compel pupils to wear religious clothing, NSS research has revealed. Read More »

C of E school services grow as congregations decline

Posted: Thu, 19 Oct 2017

The number of children attending Church of England services during school time has risen for at least the third consecutive year. Read More »

• Page:

- 1
- 2
- 3
- 4
- 5

- 6
- 7
- 8