

Author: Keith Sharpe and Chris Higgins

Should specialist theological colleges receive public funds for higher education?

Posted: Mon, 06 Jun 2022 by Keith Sharpe and Chris Higgins

Specialist theological colleges focused on doctrinal training create inherent conflict with the academic freedom and anti-discrimination requirements of education. Therefore, they should neither receive public funds nor be registered with the Office for Students, argue Chris Higgins and Keith Sharpe. Read More »

Tags: Education, LGBT, Universities

The Church of England's offensive in FE colleges must be resisted

Posted: Mon, 05 Jul 2021 by Keith Sharpe and Chris Higgins

C of E proposals to increase its influence in FE colleges have little to do with education and more to do with reversing its declining numbers among young people, say Chris Higgins and Keith Sharpe. Read More »

Tags: Education, Further education