

Author: Kunwar Khuldune Shahid

Indonesia mosque attack is a reminder that Ahmadi Muslims' human rights need defending

After a mob attacked an Ahmadi Muslim mosque in Indonesia and anti-Ahmadi rallies took place in Pakistan, Kunwar Khuldune... Read More »

Defending Muslim women's rights requires a willingness to criticise Islam

Islamic scripture is being used to justify attacks on women's rights in many countries. Secular law is a crucial defence... Read More »

Western liberals' weakness on blasphemy is letting down Muslim dissenters

The hand-wringing in the face of a vicious campaign against a teacher sends a demoralising message to those fighting... Read More »

The world has abandoned freethinkers of Muslim heritage

The first Apostasy Day has highlighted the human rights abuses facing many who leave Islam. To stand up for them we... Read More »

Secular or bust

Reflecting on the extremist wings of Pakistani politics and ideology, Kunwar Khuldune Shahid describes the dire need... Read More »