

Tags: Children's rights & welfare

The state mustn't allow children to die for their stated religious beliefs

Posted: Thu, 26 Nov 2020 by Dr Antony Lempert

As the High Court considers whether to let a girl from a Jehovah's Witness community refuse blood transfusions, Dr Antony Lempert says the precedent of overriding a child's refusal of lifesaving treatment should be upheld. Read More »

Tags: Children's rights & welfare, Healthcare, Jehovah's Witnesses, Law

We must protect pupils' educational rights where schools consistently fail

Posted: Sun, 28 Jun 2020 by Stephen Evans

Religious schools that censor textbooks, teach creationism and limit pupils' chances aren't respecting the right to a quality education. The government shouldn't let them repeatedly fail inspections, says Stephen Evans. Read More »

Tags: Children's rights & welfare, Education, Independent schools

The government should stand up to parents who want religious opt-outs

Posted: Wed, 27 Feb 2019 by Chris Sloggett

Giving ground to religious groups' individualistic demands for opt-outs from relationships & sex education undermines children's rights and teachers' ability to do their job, says Chris Sloggett. Read More »

Tags: Children's rights & welfare, Education, RSE

Review: The Children Act

Posted: Thu, 08 Nov 2018 by Emma Park

Emma Park says Ian McEwan's book and the film it has inspired prompt the questions of what the state should do when a young person's religion conflicts with their welfare, and how this affects religious freedom.

This review contains spoilers.

Does the state... Read More »

Tags: Children's rights & welfare, Jehovah's Witnesses, Religious freedom, Reviews

- Opinion