

Secular Legal Forum

Secular Legal Forum

The Secular Legal Forum (SLF) provides expert and professional advice and opinion to the National Secular Society (NSS) on issues related to the law, and provides a forum for anyone with expertise in the intersection of secularism and the law.

Want to get involved?

Sign up

Join our mailing list to apply to join the forum. You'll be kept up to date with news, meetups and opportunities to contribute or volunteer.

Membership of the Secular Legal Forum is open to legal professionals (including current, former and trainee professionals) and those with a particular expertise in the intersection of secularism and the law. All requests to join will be considered after signing up to the mailing list.

Membership of the SLF is generally restricted to NSS members.
