Protect LGBT-inclusive education

There is a growing, highly organised protest movement against LGBT inclusive relationships and sex education (RSE). This has been exemplified by the national coverage of protests at schools around the country; in many cases teachers have been extremely intimidated and some have even received death threats. In several cases schools have suspended lessons in response.

Please ask your MP to urge the Education Secretary to reconsider the requirement for schools to take into account the religious background of their pupils when planning RSE teaching.

The Department for Education should remove this requirement or provide clarity on this duty and the scope of consultation schools are required to undertake. It must be made clear that this is not an opportunity or invitation for parental veto or restriction of subject content.

MPs receive a lot of research and correspondence from campaigning organisations. When their constituents also share these reports it shows that voters care about this issue.

You can use the below template to share the report and its findings and recommendations with your MP; just enter your postcode to get started. Please consider taking the time to personalise it. Let your MP know:

- Why this matters to you
- What you'd like them to do about it.
- Any other interesting perspectives you may be able to offer on the issue.
